Conference Schedule Overview

The first day will focus primarily on algorithmic mathematics and information technologies in mathematics education.

The second day is dedicated to mathematical modeling and artificial intelligence, culminating in a panel discussion titled 'Mathematics - Artificial Intelligence - Education.' The discussion will feature Yuri Gurevich, Alexander Sakharov, and Alexei Medvedev, with the latter moderating the session. All attendees are invited to participate.

The third day is a youth session, where PhD and Master's students from various universities will present their research.

The suggested format for talks is:

Half-hour slots: 20-minute presentation + 10-minute Q&A

Hour-long slots: 45-minute presentation + 15-minute Q&A

For identification purposes, all participants must use their real first and last names when joining the Zoom conference

Professor Nikolai Vasiliev will chair the morning session on July 15
